—Rev. Caldwell will conduct services at the New Point Presbyterian church next Sunday, morning and evening.

—A team hitched to a load of hay ran away with Joe Parret a few days ago, dumping him off the load hurting his back considerably.

School Supplies.

At Proud's Drug store you will find everything in this line. School Books, Tablets, Slates, Pencils, Inks, Crayons, Erasers, Rulers, Pencil Boxes, Book Straps and Bags, etc.

—George Lehmer, of Oregon, Mo., who has been visiting relatives in Wisconsin for several weeks, stopped off here on his return trip last Sunday and visited his brother-in-law, C. W. Proham, a couple of days. —Savannah Reporter.

—The Misses Charlene Russell, Kate Knowles and Hortense Dungan gave a lawn party to their numerous young friends at the home of the latter, last Friday evening. The evening passed pleasantly with various games and Eva Hunt carried off the prize for pinning the tail on the donkey. Refreshments were served and a good time is reported by all.

—B. F. Ha-ness, of Iowa Point, is arranging to take his penates to Norton county about the first of November. He has already sent along some agricultural implements for the boy to put in a good big wheat crop. Mr. Ha-ness owns three quarters of land near Norton and there he proposes to again set up his idols. The Doniphan county people who have known the Ha-ness family so long feel sorry to see them go. —Troy, Kansas, Chieft.

—Hon. C. C. Bell was 53 years of age, Friday of last week, 30th ultimo. He celebrated his birthday at home with his family, he being in charge of Missouri's Horticultural display at Buffalo. He looks the same as he did when he came here on his wedding morn and captured one of Oregon's lovely daughters. He is the same jolly, companionable of fellows, and first class business men. The SENTINEL wishes him a continuation of his happy and prosperous life, and the return of ever so many birthdays.

—Robert M. Graves, an extensive farmer of southern Macan county, tells of an unusual method he employed to bring his cattle through the drought period. After the cattle had devoured all the grass in the pastures and began to paw into the earth for something to eat, he tried the experiment of chopping down elm trees for food. The cattle took to it readily and seem to thrive on the leaves and tender branches. For over a month he supported 50 head of stock in this way, and when the rains came at last and the grass began again they were in better condition than in early part of the season.

—The Holt County druggists, we believe, with a few exceptions, refuse to pay the special whiskey tax required by the law the state enacted at the last general assembly. The intention of the law was to raise money for the St. Louis Fair appropriation, and the whiskey dealers regard it as a regular hold-up, and should not be paid. The dealers say it is unjust and will stand suit before they will pay the tax. It may lead to a trial testing the constitutionality of the law. The St. Louis dealers are fighting it on that theory, and if they win, it will effect the revenues of the state hundreds of thousands of dollars.

—One reads a great deal about the wheat crop of Missouri and comparatively little of the fruit crop. From a comparative standpoint of value there is no occasion for a discrimination against fruit. For the past two seasons, although the fruit yield has been far below an average, yet the surplus market was of more value than the combined wheat crops of Missouri and Illinois. Three seasons ago there was a pretty fair fruit crop in this state, and the surplus was marketed for $20,000,000, in numbers, being in excess, in market value, of the combined wheat crops of Missouri, Illinois and Arkansas. Although there are no official figures at hand to show the relative values of the wheat and fruit crops of Missouri this year, yet it is not assuming too much to say that the fruit will prove of the greatest value. The value of the surplus wheat crop has been variously estimated at from $6,000,000 to $12,000,000, on the basis of a high market and next to no corn, for a state like Missouri. Fruit will hardly prove half a crop, while the wheat yield was above the average. But even half a fruit crop is as valuable as a wheat crop above the average.

—Mrs. D. A. Young is visiting with friends in St. Joseph.

—For the price of THE SENTINEL alone, $1.50, you can also get the Toledo Weekly Blade.

—Mrs. Claude King and child, of Maitland, are guests with Grandpa and Grandma Berres.

—I. L. Smith, of Craig, will remove to Erie, Kansas, where he will engage in the general merchandise business.

—Mrs. Schlotzhauer and Miss Martha Snider have returned from their visit with the family of John Markt, of Mound City.

—Sterl Stephenson has contracted with Andy Tschertman for the erection of a handsome seven room residence on his farm southeast of Oregon.

—Married, at the Cottage hotel in this city, Monday, September 2, 1901, by Rev. Henry Crampton, Mr. Claude Asendorf and Miss Minnie Duncan, both of near Craig.

—Misses Pauline Kirchner, daughter of ex-Mayor Kirchner, of St. Joseph, and Maude Patterson, daughter of Dr. Patterson, of St. Joseph, are the guests of Alice and Emma Price.

—A number of Maitland citizens, who were born in 1827, have organized a club. These are: P. M. Paschall, who was born February 3rd; C. P. Bartram, February 4th; Henry Johnson, February 5th; W. T. Raley, April 5th; S. D. Robinson, August 8th. These gentlemen have all passed their seventy-third mile post, and the occasion of the club organization was celebrated by a luncheon at Frank's restaurant in that city.

—The Holt County druggists, we believe, with a few exceptions, refuse to pay the special whiskey tax required by the law the state enacted at the last general assembly. The intention of the law was to raise money for the St. Louis Fair appropriation, and the whiskey dealers regard it as a regular hold-up, and should not be paid. —John Hart, an old respected citizen, of Savannah, died at Colorado Springs, Saturday last, Aug. 31, 1901, and was buried at Savannah Monday of this week. He was a brother of Mrs. Eliza VanBuskirk, of this city.

—The farmers have begun their fall work of hauling wood to Oregon. It might be well to suggest that those who promised THE SENTINEL wood on subscription, would do a wise act in hauling the same while the roads are in good condition.

—C. L. Raley is putting up a neat five-room cottage for Charles Pierce, of Forbes township, on his lots he recently purchased, just south of George Allen's, and expects to move to Oregon as soon as completed, which will be about November first.

—Father Hayes has selected his quarter section of Oklahoma land about eight miles north of Fort Hill, and two miles from Richards. He seems perfectly satisfied with his land, and says every acre is tillable. In due time he will occupy the land.

—Every citizen of Atchison county should take pride in making the best possible exhibit at the County Fair to be held at Rock Port, Sept. 10-14, 1901. Notwithstanding the drought, there will be great abundance, and the showing at the Fair should show it to the best possible advantage.

—It matters not what the occasion, Rock Port is famous for big crowds of well behaved people. Great crowds come and go without trouble. The coming Fair, September 10-14 next, will have the largest crowds in the history of society, and they will be better entertained than ever before.

—Pastmaster Curry has succeeded in getting another mail for this city. The "Omaha Flyer," beginning with Monday next, will supply this office with mail going north, and this office will send out mail to it for the north. This will bring up the daily papers by 9 a. m. and will put the patrons of the rural route from this place in position to receive their daily papers during the forenoon of the date of publication. Try it the world do more.

—The Silver medal contest held in the Woods school house, Saturday, August 31st, was an all around success. There was a large and appreciative audience present to hear the contest for the much coveted prize. Three boys only contested; all the boys did well, so well that there were very little difference. The judges, Rev. Myers, Judge G. W. Murphy and Miss Mary Whitmer finally awarded the medal to Master Botkin, of New Point, who recited "A Plea." Paul Sawyer recited "Is it Nothing to You?" and Master Kelley recited "A Sign-Board." Little Jimmie Bragg sang a solo, "Why Don't Papa Come Home?" It was finely rendered, and brought tears to many eyes. In his support Bertha Bragg, each of whom support three medals, the silver, gold and the grand gold, also Clyde Raley, who recently won a gold medal and Lucille Sawyer, who has a silver medal, each favored the crowd with a recitation, while the judges were deciding who had won the prize. The Woodville choir sang several pieces. A collection of $2.77 was raised for expenses.
